About me.

THE HOOK

I am an Executive Virtual Assistant who leverages a deep background in quality assurance to streamline operations and protect busy executives from daily administrative friction.

THE STORY

My career is built on an 8-year foundation in the high-stakes BPO industry, moving from frontline client care to spending 4 years managing operational standards as a Quality Analyst. This journey trained me to see the patterns behind operational bottlenecks and taught me exactly how to fix them. Moving into executive support was an inevitable step; I take the strict precision of a QA background and use it to keep your calendar, communication, and workflows flawless.

THE PROMISE

Working with me means gaining a partner who brings an analytical eye to your daily operations, responds with urgency, and ensures your business infrastructure runs with zero-error precision.

What I deliver.

01 Calendar, Inbox, & Stakeholder Gatekeeping

A Calendar That Protects Deep Work

Outcome: Strategic schedule management that blocks out distraction-free time for your high-priority projects while handling all meeting logistics.

An Inbox That's Empty by Friday

Outcome: Expert email triage that filters out the noise, drafts responses on your behalf, and highlights only what requires your direct attention.

Flawless Client & Partner Relations

Outcome: High-level, professional communication with your VIP clients and partners, ensuring they always feel valued and heard.

02 Operations, Quality Assurance, & Efficiency

Polished SOPs Ready for Scaling

Outcome: Documented, clear business workflows created from scratch so your team operations can run smoothly without your constant oversight.

Clean Data Ready for Decisions

Outcome: Regular monitoring, tracking, and organization of your business metrics so you have accurate reports whenever you need to make a move.

Zero Dropped Balls on Daily Tasks

Outcome: Proactive tracking of project deadlines and follow-ups, catching operational gaps before they ever impact your bottom line.

How we'll work.

The Executive Time-Protection Method

01

Alignment Audit

A focused, 30-minute deep-dive call to map out your current business bottlenecks, audit your inbox volume, identify your VIP stakeholders, and pinpoint exactly where you need your time protected.

02

Gateway Calibration

During the first week, I take your existing processes and build optimized filters. This includes setting up your custom inbox tags, establishing strict calendar time-blocking rules, securing credentials inside your password manager, and laying down the groundwork for your Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs).

03

Frictionless Execution

The daily engine room. I actively gatekeep your calendar from low-priority requests, manage and respond to incoming emails in your exact professional voice, keep project deadlines moving forward, and intercept operational errors before they ever land on your desk.

04

Performance & Insight Reports

A clear, predictable communication rhythm. You receive a concise EOD (End of Day) status ping on Slack outlining what was completed, followed by a weekly high-level dashboard metrics report and a 5-minute Loom walkthrough video tracking task completion and upcoming priorities.

How I Improved Quality Performance for Over 200 Customer Service Representatives Through Data-Driven Coaching

CLIENT

BPO Customer Service Team

DURATION

6 Years

PROBLEM

A large customer service team needed consistent quality monitoring to ensure agents met company standards. Performance gaps, compliance issues, and inconsistent customer interactions affected overall service quality and customer satisfaction.

SOLUTION

I conducted detailed quality evaluations of customer interactions, monitored compliance with company policies, and analyzed performance trends. I delivered one-on-one coaching sessions, provided actionable feedback, and collaborated with team leaders to implement improvement plans. I also prepared performance reports to help management make informed decisions.

RESULT

Supported more than 200 customer service representatives while maintaining a 90% QA accuracy standard. My coaching contributed to improved service quality, stronger policy compliance, and more consistent customer experiences across the team.

How I Consistently Exceeded Sales Targets by Delivering Customer-Focused Solutions

PROBLEM

Customers often contacted us without knowing which mobile plans, devices, or services best fit their needs. At the same time, our team was expected to maintain a 45% daily sales conversion target while delivering an excellent customer experience.

SOLUTION

I listened carefully to each customer's needs, recommended the most suitable mobile plans, devices, phone insurance, and internet services, and clearly explained the benefits of every option. By building trust instead of using aggressive sales tactics, I was able to handle objections effectively and create a positive buying experience.

RESULT

I consistently achieved and frequently exceeded the 45% daily sales conversion target, contributing to team performance and customer satisfaction. My ability to communicate effectively, solve customer concerns, and recommend the right solutions helped generate additional revenue while maintaining a high-quality customer experience.
